

Thread - 2024-01-07

<https://x.com/RiikonenMarko/status/1744044016297976180>

1/1 - 2024-01-07 17:11 UTC

Glitter from the 4/5 January night with bottle crystals (<https://t.co/ysldWgpYNX>). I was wondering why plates were present in the sample in oddly small numbers and also seemed rather crappy to make the distinct parhelia. Well, the mystery was solved later during the night and I'll return to the issue once I file a proper report with stacked images.

The video is of course much suffered by compression upon uploading. Crystal glitter stuff is particularly susceptible to compression degradation. Also, my phone camera is not sensitive enough to capture the fainter glints. This is only a poor facsimile of the real thing.

The lamp is Acebeam L19.

[video: 1744044016297976180-BgQRc-IGuD6jhQid.mp4]
