Serious looking forecast for Rovaniemi from Meteoblue. Winds die down and cloud hugs the ground. The only gripe I have is too low temps. Expectation is crap, but it can't be crap all the way through, there are always pleasant exceptions.

Nothing doing last night. The ski center was dark, nothing happening, apparently because of the new year's night. There would have been ice fog, conditions were on. I saw some ghostly singular pillars in the industrial area. Must be that they formed in the firework's smokes.
