Last night (11/12 March 2025) I had the alarm off at 2:15 and dragged myself for a ride. It was all dry so I returned to bed (at 5 it is already twilight sky). At some point the conditions had developed as shown by these Koivusaari 360 camera images in the morning. I did some driving around before 8 but it was nothing to get excited about.

Coming night and morning could be big. Meteoblue forecasts fog starting midnight.
